Lucas's dream

Rodrigo Folgueira & Poly Bernatene

Lucas' dream was to have a pet.

It was an ordinary night, while he was sleeping, the doors of his closet opened.

In the middle of a very bright light, there was a fairy.
(Lucas saw her)

It was a kind of odd fairy, but it was a fairy.

- I came to fulfill your dream! I know you want a pet.
Tell me which one and you'll have it.

Lucas didn't thought much...

This way they arrived to the avenue (hitting everything) and as the avenue ended on the port they fell into the river.

They crashed a boat (involuntarily) and they discovered that, besides running, Ernest knew how to float. Taken by the current soon they were off shore.

Some colored dolphins came to say hello – what are you doing here? Lucas told them about his father, his mother and the zoo.

- How awful! The dolphins screamed.

- That's unacceptable, go to the trapeze monkey island. He solves all the problems.

- Where is this island? Lucas asked.

that way!

And to that way! They left.

When they arrived to the island a dog with glasses welcomed them.

We are looking to trapeze monkey.

- It's by that mountain - the dog said.

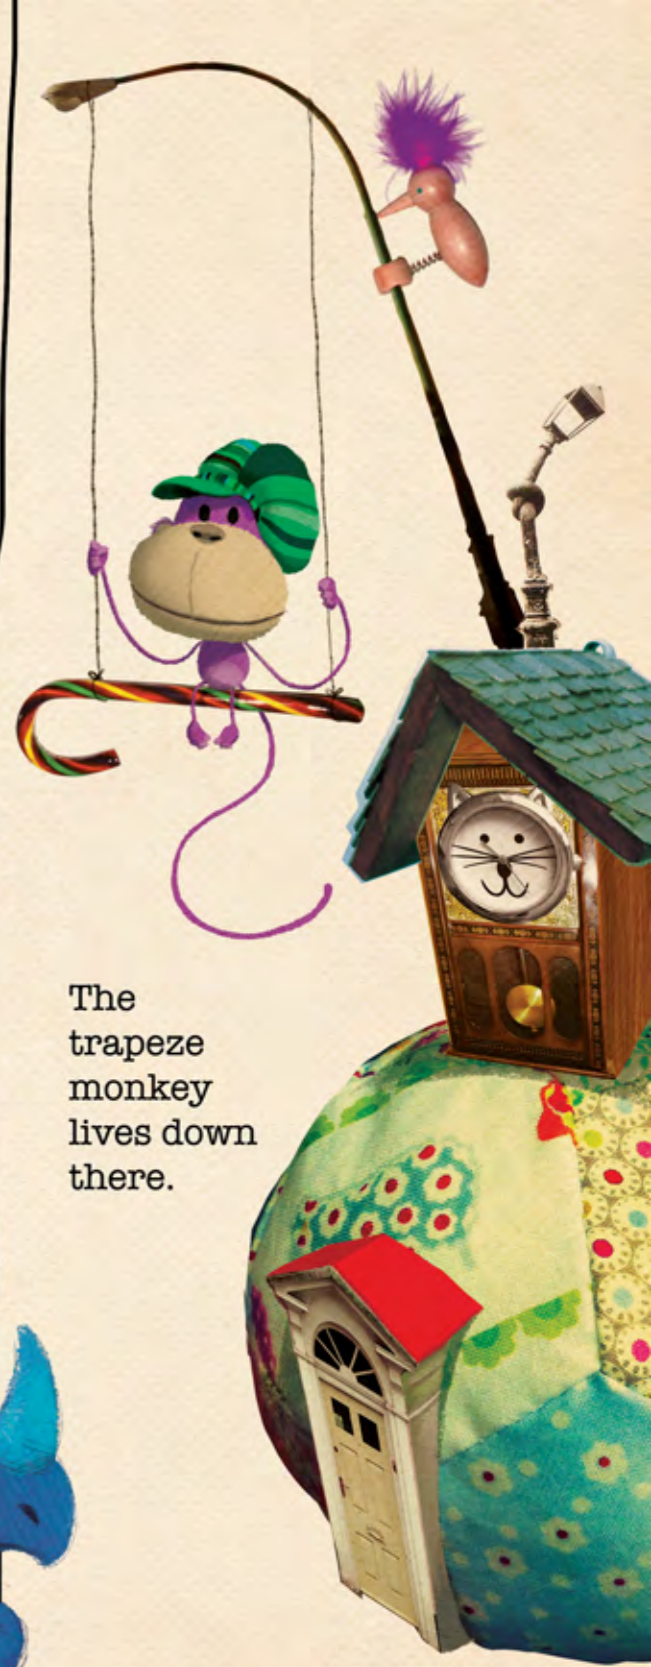

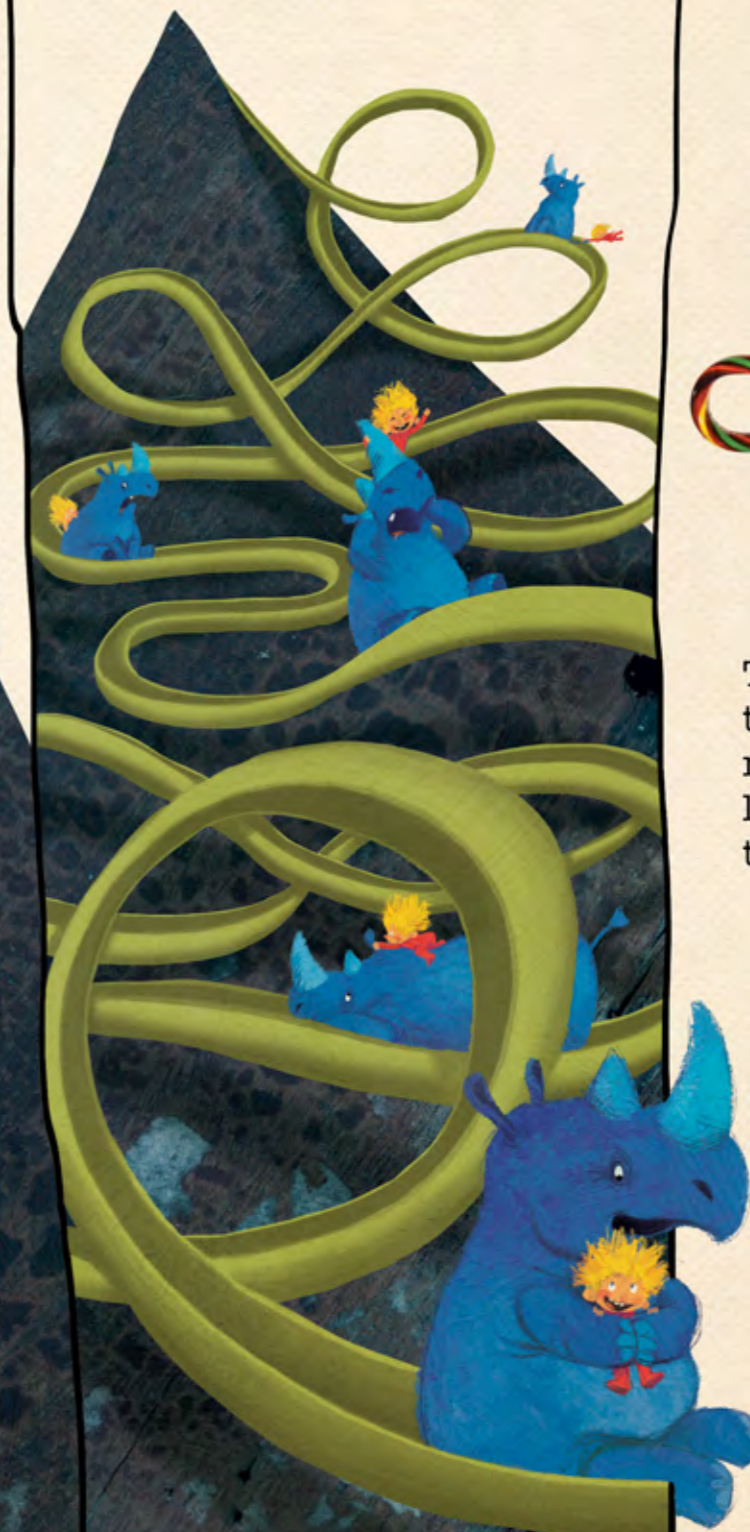

Go up.

When you are at the top go down.

It's easy.

There is a giant slide!

The trapeze monkey lives down there.

(The monkey's house was shaped like a ball)

- We have a problem – Lucas said.
- First things first –said the monkey
- I would like to invite you an ice cream (an ice cream?)

My cousin the dandruff frog, have an excellent ice-cream shop.
- choose your favorite taste – the dandruff frog said.

Ernest, mint and meringue.

The trapeze monkey,
apple and milk jam.

Lucas,
chips, chips!!

(He loved that taste!)
